

Remembering Mr. Beri Reichmann ז"ל

"More than what you give, is how you give."

In a moving display of הכרת הטוב and כבוד, our תלמידים were זוכה to be מלווה Mr. Beri Reichmann ז"ל, paying tribute to a man who put his heart and soul into building Yesodei HaTorah.

Five hundred boys lined up in a single file, all bearing testimony to the love and care that Mr. Reichmann put into Yesodei.

A story that his son relayed at the לילה really portrays the way Mr. Reichmann gave to Klal Yisroel.

"My father was also a father to thousands. I recall a trip to Kiev where we visited all of the institutions that my father helped build. As we walked away from an orphanage, a crew that was tracking our trip asked my father what he thought about this orphanage and the children. "These are my children!" my father responded."

Mr. Reichmann lived in this manner. When it came to giving, there were no formalities or dry responsibilities. His involvement with Yesodei, among many other מלאכת הקודש, was done with the heart and devotion of a father for his children.

The boys walked away with the empowering לימוד that was Mr. Reichmann's legacy. More than what you give, is how you give.

A Custom Plan for Everyone

A new initiative setting the trend for schools in North America.

As parents, we all want to know that our children are safe and protected in this ever-changing world.

Constantly weighing the benefits and fallouts of different aspects of technology is a real 21st-century challenge. We want to be מחנך our children while keeping them safe, happy, and pure—a goal that is becoming more and more elusive as technology advances.

Such decisions are highly personal and individual, and there is no one-size-fits-all answer. Each family has their own unique story with so many different variables to be taken into account.

Yesodei recognized its parent body's sincere desire to ensure their homes remain safe while balancing their other daily needs and considerations. Much time and manpower were invested so that private meetings could be held with parents to discuss and receive guidance for their family's specific questions and concerns.

R' Moshe Hillel Drew, of TAG International, was brought to Yesodei to lead this initiative. Together with his trained team of professionals, R' Drew ran three seven-hour marathons of back-to-back meetings. Parents were able to express their concerns and receive practical advice and direction based on their needs.

We are so proud to be a part of such a like-minded and growing community and feel privileged to have had a part in this movement. What was so beautiful about this was the atmosphere of 'we're in this together' that really propelled this initiative forward.

"Parents came in with the positive outlook of we finally have an opportunity! It was really encouraging."
-R' Guttman.

The feedback was unbelievable. Parents were so grateful for the opportunity to be heard, have their questions answered, and learn about technology.

There were many requests for follow-up, which Yesodei hopes to be able to arrange בעז"ה in the future.

A quote from Rabbi Drew sums up our appreciation for our wonderful parent body.

"The parents of Yesodei Hatorah left a lasting impression. Their selflessness in putting their children first was inspiring. The depth of their commitment to living higher was evident in every sacrifice they were willing to make."

A Meaningful Evening for Mothers

Connecting and growing together.

The mothers of Yesodei Hatorah were invited to a beautiful מלכה מלכה, artistically arranged by a talented and dedicated team, along with many volunteers. It was a wonderful opportunity to reconnect and enjoy a relaxed evening out together.

There was a sense of being a part of something bigger, and a real appreciation for having such a warm and cohesive parent body.

A mother expressed it so well. "It was so beautiful, and so much fun to be treated. I felt so part of a community - there was a real feeling of camaraderie there."

Mrs. Rivky Colman spoke powerfully about the נשים צדקניות of מצרים, reminding us of the unique strength we possess to hold onto our אמונה, even in the bleakest of times.

We feel lucky to be a part of such a close-knit, warm group of parents.

Thank you!

"IT WAS SO BEAUTIFUL, AND SO MUCH FUN TO BE TREATED. I FELT SO PART OF A COMMUNITY - THERE WAS A REAL FEELING OF CAMARADERIE THERE."
